WORKING FOR YOU NATIONAL DEFENSE

A LEADER FOR OUR NATIONAL DEFENSE

We are at a crucial period for our national security. As Vice Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee and Chairman of the Tactical Air and Land Forces Subcommittee, I know how important it is for our servicemembers to have the necessary equipment, resources, and funding to defend our nation and deter our adversaries. As we face growing national security threats from China and Russia, our military must maintain an advantage over our adversaries to protect our interests and the interests of our allies. The security and stability of the free world depends on a strong American military, and I am committed to ensuring our Armed Forces are equipped to compete in an increasingly dangerous world.

NATIONAL DEFENSE & SECURITY WORK IN THE 117TH CONGRESS

- Launched the bipartisan Public Shipyard Caucus with Rep. Kilmer (WA-06) to support the nation's four public shipyards and serve as a venue to discuss public shipyard issues and raise awareness for their importance to Congress.
- Advocated for putting the Navy back on track to building a 355-ship Navy in the FY23 NDAA.
- Prevented the retirement of 12 existing Navy ships and secured the construction of 11 new ships in the FY23 NDAA.
- Co-sponsored a resolution that called on the Biden administration to abandon their attempts to restart JCPOA negotiations with Iran.
- Hosted a Manufacturing Competitiveness Roundtable with Virginia Governor Glenn Youngkin and the Ronald Reagan Institute to discuss reviving U.S. manufacturing competitiveness in areas critical to national security and the defense workforce.
- Introduced legislation with Rep. Stefanik (NY-21) to establish the National Commission on the United States' Involvement in Afghanistan.

WORKING FOR YOU GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTABILITY

HOLDING WASHINGTON ACCOUNTABLE

I'm a firm believer that transparency and accountability in Congress are essential for reining in wasteful government spending, completing appropriations on time, and ensuring our government is adequately funded. Passing a budget on time is of the most basic duties of Congress, yet we continue to find ourselves budgeting by crisis and using last-minute stop-gap measures to avoid government shutdowns. This prevents Members of Congress from being able to properly resolve Americans' most pressing concerns. There is no question that the culture in Washington must change, and I have continued to introduce legislation that would hold Members of Congress accountable for failing to do their job.

GOVERNMENT ACCOUNTABILITY WORK IN THE 117TH CONGRESS

- The Stay on Schedule (S.O.S) Resolution — would force the Speaker to keep Congress in town until all 12 appropriations bills are passed, instead of adjourning for the August recess.
- The No Budget, No Pay Act — would prevent Members of Congress from being paid until we pass a budget.
- Inaction Has Consequences Act — would hold Congress Members' salaries if we do not pass regular appropriation bills before the end of the Fiscal Year.

THE HILL

Cancel August recess: We must do our job

BY REP. ROB WITTMAN (R-VA.), OPINION CONTRIBUTOR - 07/11/22 2:00 PM ET

....

Last week, as I have done for years, I sent the Speaker a letter urging her to cancel August recess considering the incredible work members of Congress still must complete. In addition to failing to complete all 12 appropriations bills, our nation currently faces enormous challenges both at home and abroad that require direct attention and action from Members of Congress. Between soaring inflation, skyrocketing energy costs, an unprecedented border crisis, and mounting national security challenges, members of Congress have a duty to work for the American people.

The challenges ahead of us require a commitment to late nights, weekends, and remaining in Washington throughout August until the work is done. If the job isn't done, you don't give up and head home for vacation. The same standard should apply to Congress. We can't continue to find ourselves in these completely avoidable situations. I urge Speaker Pelosi to realistically look at the challenges we face and keep members of Congress in Washington until we complete the work of the American people.

WORKING FOR YOU NATURAL RESOURCES

PROTECTING OUR ENVIRONMENT & NATURAL RESOURCES

As a lifelong conservationist and outdoorsman, I know how important it is to protect and preserve our environment, natural resources, and wildlife. In Congress, I serve on the House Natural Resources Committee where I'm focused on protecting our environment by promoting policies that encourage clean energy, innovation, and proper stewardship of our environment. I am also the Co-Chair of the Congressional Chesapeake Bay Watershed Caucus and have been a leader in safeguarding and preserving the Chesapeake Bay wildlife, waters, and region. Virginia and our nation are both blessed with an abundance of natural resources that we have a responsibility to protect, manage, and use in ways that allow them to flourish for generations to come. I'm committed to working with my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to secure greater access to resources for our public lands, wetlands, and wildlife, and ensure the proper use of our natural resources.

- Co-led the Keep America's Refuges Operational Act of 2022 to reauthorize the National Wildlife Refuge System volunteer, community partnership, and education programs.
- Introduced, and passed, the Northern Neck National Heritage Area Act to deliver critical dollars and resources to help protect the Northern Neck region.
- Co-sponsored the Trillion Trees Act to solidify the U.S. as a global leader of the One Trillion Trees Initiative.
- Introduced the Refuge System Protection Act with Rep. Thompson (CA-05) for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to collect civil damages to repair and restore damaged wildlife refuges.
- Introduced the Chesapeake Bay SEEE Act with Reps. Sarbanes (MD-03) and Scott (VA-03) to advance efforts in preserving our ecosystems and waterways in the Chesapeake Bay region.
- Co-sponsored the VIP Act to allow veterans, active-duty servicemembers, and Gold Star families to visit all national parks and public lands free of charge.
